

TRICIA NIXON

A dutiful but sleepy wave from 6-year-old Tricia, with her parents and sister, November, 1952.

By DEE WEDEMEYER

TRICIA NIXON had no sooner placed one petite foot on British soil than British newspapers proclaimed her "America's little princess." Her mother boasts proudly of Tricia's volunteer work. And her father once said of Tricia:

"I remember the day Patricia was born. I was not there. That's the story of her life. It seemed I was always saying goodbye . . ."

But if Tricia has any clues about her personality, she's not giving them away.

"If you haven't seen my name in the newspapers, you know I'm having a good time," she says.

Editors and writers, nevertheless, have—through Tricia's politeness and their own perseverance—extracted a host of tiny details about the 23-year-old-blond.

She wears size four dresses. Her favorite color is pink and her best beau is Edward Cox, a law student, whose White House visits have been one of the best kept secrets so far during the Nixon administration.

Since her father's inauguration Tricia has been reluctant to give news interviews. She has held only one news conference and that was in England.

A White House biographical sketch states that Tricia was born in Whittier, Calif., February 21, 1946. She attended public and private schools, including Sidwell Friends School in Washington, Marlboro School for Girls in Los Angeles and Miss Chapins School in New York City, where she graduated.

Unlike her sister Julie, who went off to Northampton, Mass., to Smith College, Tricia chose to attend Finch College in New York City so that she could live at home and walk the 18 blocks from the Nixon's Fifth Avenue apartment.

At Finch, classmates regarded Tricia as a sweet, unassuming girl, who did not wish to receive special treatment because of her father's position.

She was elected class president in her junior year and was tapped for the school's highest honorary, Inermus Melora.

Every Christmas she invited her class home for a party.

One teacher recalled that after a heated discussion on Vietnam, Tricia quietly went to her after class and asked, "If I bring you some of my father's speeches, will you read them?"

In her junior year she wrote a paper on her father's role in the era of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

"It's funny when you're doing something like that and it's your own father. I'd cross out Daddy and put in Mr. Nixon. It's hard being in a class when you're talking about current things. But it didn't bother me when Daddy's name was brought up. I felt I could contribute something."

She considered going to law school but decided "I've been in school for so long. I'd like to get out and have a different kind of life, a non-student life."

What she got was more of the same kind of life she's had all along—campaigning, traveling, meeting famous people and moving in the limelight.

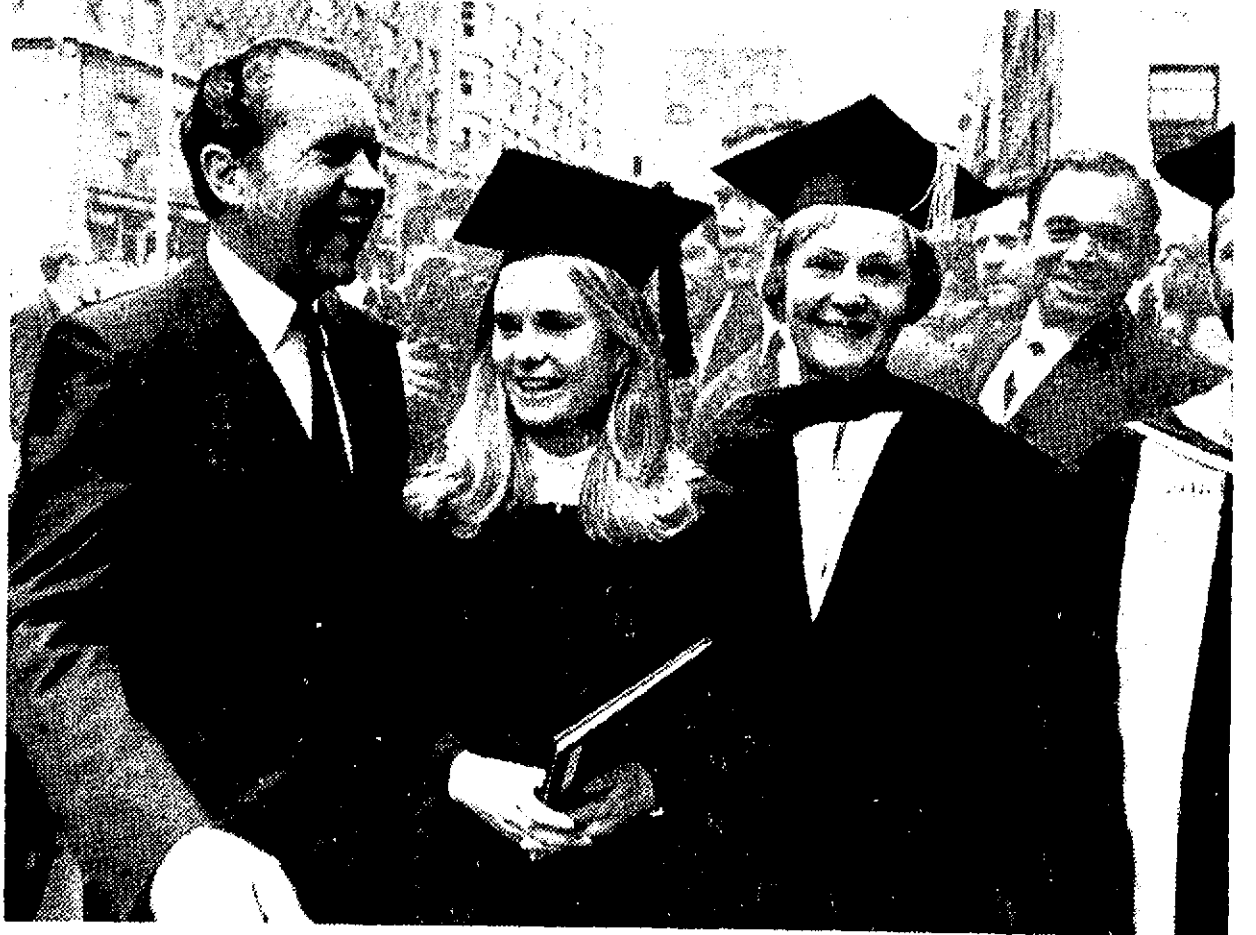

She thought about taking a job on Capitol Hill, where she once worked for Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., but decided to do volunteer work and travel instead.

"It's only 4 or 8 years," she said. "And you ought to take advantage of it."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

CAN SHE EVER PLEASE THEM? Dear Helen: I did something stupid and lost my parents' trust. They allow me to go out — they never even grounded me — but I can just feel doubt in them. Things aren't the same as they were before.

How can I make my folks as sure of me as I am myself? I don't want to make a foolish move twice.

Incidentally, the stupidity was that I lied, went to a party that turned out pretty wild, and it got busted. I didn't do anything bad, and the whole thing scared me to death, so from now on I'm — GOOD BUT UNTRUSTED

Dear G but U: I think your guilty conscience makes you more unsure of your parents than they are of you. If they hadn't regained faith, you'd be much more restricted than you are.

To cement that trust, try a few long, thoughtful talks, showing your mother and father exactly how you feel, what your standards are, how you appreciate their understanding.

Then, here's a tip that works wonders: Make sure you are home at least five minutes before your deadline, not only on dates, but from club meetings, school affairs, etc. If you can't manage it, telephone. And if you can get home 15 minutes early occasionally, all the better!

(But don't make it much earlier than that, or you parents will wonder what went wrong with your evening).—H.

Dear Helen: I have a blushing problem. It's bad enough when I blush for myself, but I get red when others make boo-boos. For example: I play the sax, and when anybody in the saxophone sections hits a sour note, guess who gets the blame: Me—because I'm the red faced one. I see the teacher looking at me, and it gets worse. Then somebody starts laughing.

Is there any cure for a FIRECRACKER FACE

Dear F.F.: I've never heard of a sure cure for blushing, but you might control it a bit if you learned to laugh at your self-consciousness. Sometimes you can play up a fault and turn it into fun. —H.

Dear Helen: This girl is something! All last year, I did favors for her, and she never once said "Thank you." My mother took her to school in the car for nine months, but during summer school, I asked her for a ride once, and she acted as if I had inconvenienced her.

She spends all her time with her boy friend and never does things with me, yet if I don't wait for her at her locker and walk to lunch with her, she's really upset. Then if we don't sit in her favorite place, she's belligerent.

Should I feel obligated to her, and keep her as a friend, or look elsewhere?—NOT APPRECIATED

Dear Not: When I get letters like yours, I'm never sure whether they're slow burns, or sudden blow-ups that will as suddenly blow over, after you settle your latest fight.

If the gal is really (and constantly) as thoughtless as you say, perhaps you'd better find another friend.—H.

Elisa beams her approval of her ruffled clown costume, which her mother stitched up from a striped sheet, a couple of packages of jumbo rickrack, and bright yarn pompons.

STITCHIN' TIME

Halloween Joy Is a Home-Sewn Costume

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

Watch out—here they come! The annual parade of ghosts and goblins, pirates and princesses, tramps, skeletons and half-pint hippies is about to begin. It's Halloween—and happiness is a homemade costume that is more original, scarier, groovier or prettier than anyone else's.

Home sewing pays off when it comes to costumes. The store-bought variety is getting more and more expensive as well as more and more shoddy, while homemade outfits can often be created at little or no cost from materials already at hand.

The everyday ingredient in today's clown costume is a sheet—preferably a printed, striped or colored one. If you're stuck with a plain white sheet, treat it to a dye bath first. Easy-to-follow directions are by Neechi Sewing Machines of Italy.

Fold sheet in half crosswise as shown in diagram, with fold at top. Draw pattern as shown on folded sheet, and cut out along solid lines. Sew front and back sections together, as indicated by arrows.

Stitch quarter-inch hems at edges of neck, sleeve and ankle ruffles. On wrong side of costume, sew single fold bias tape to form casing. The broken lines on the diagram indicate the casings.

Measure the child's wrist and cut two pieces of narrow elastic two inches longer than the measurement. Pull elastic through wrist casings and stitch together. Do same for ankle casings.

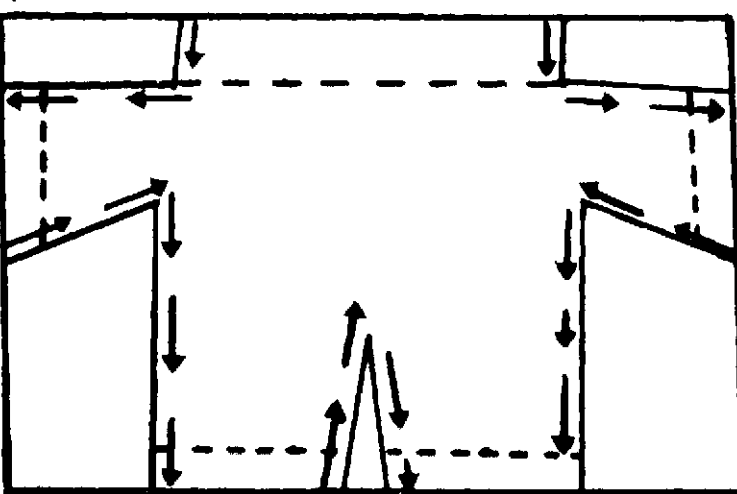

Run a ribbon through neck casing, remembering that the opening must be large enough for the child to step into when putting on the costume. Tie the ribbon in a bow to close the neck opening and form a ruffle.

Add your own decorative touches to the costume. Sew rickrack or ribbons on all ruffles, using an automatic zigzag stitch with contrasting thread.

To make the pompons, cut a piece of cardboard three inches wide and wind the yarn directly from the ball around the cardboard. The more turns you take, the fatter your pompons will be. Wind firmly but not tightly. Tie at one edge of the cardboard and cut at the opposite edge. Roll the pompon between your palms to shape it. Trim evenly with scissors. Stitch to costume and hat.

Add a layer of rouge and lipstick for a clown face, and send your little trick-or-treater out for a memorable evening.

TV NOTEBOOK

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—She looks like a mini-Mae West in her sparkling silver gown which clings to her well-rounded figure. She's very blonde, with light blue eyes and moist pink lips. She's nearly 50 and she has had a career that spans decades and grows in strength with every passing year.

She's Peggy Lee, a singer who has stayed popular since the days when she sang with Benny Goodman's band.

In an industry where last week's star is quite often this week's has-been, someone who sang with Goodman's band is part of ancient history. To be popular still is miraculous.

But she survives with talent and a love of entertaining. Her fans grow up, grow old and a new generation discovers her. It's as endless as the ocean.

When she's not writing songs, she is making records for Capitol. The rest of the time she is touring the elite of the club circuit. She makes occasional television appearances.

"You can't beat the experience of singing with a big band," a veteran of show business has observed. Peggy certainly proves the point. Her career has been a steady one, although it might seem that right now she is singing better than ever and is even more popular.

The slow player is a menace to everyone at the table. Not that he wins from them, but rather that he spoils the game.

Strangely enough, you can speed up your own play materially if you will learn to stop and think when it is important to do so and the most important time for declarer to think is before playing to the first trick.

Today's hand is a good example. South played the jack of spades from dummy without a moment's hesitation. It held the trick and, all of a sudden, South realized he had problems.

Ten minutes later, he had solved all his problems successfully and East and West had entered a plus score of 200, representing the penalty for down-two vulnerable.

If South had just bothered to think for a few seconds before putting his hand on the jack of spades, he would have played the seven-spot. East's nine would have forced South's ace but South would have been off and running. He would have gone right after the diamond suit.

He had done that anyway but there was a great difference in what happened. With the ace of spades played at trick one and the queen and jack left in dummy, there was no way for East and West to keep South from getting into dummy to win three more diamond tricks and he would have wound up with game, rubber and, probably, an overtrick.

South also could have saved himself if he had thought before completing the first play. In that case, he could have overtaken dummy's jack of spades with his ace and brought home the contract in spite of the first mistake.

TALK OFTEN
WITH YOUR GOD

Here's the Answer

--- deep rooted in God's Word --- The Book.
When Sir Walter Scott lay dying — he called for The Book. The servant who best knew his library hesitated and asked, "Which Book?" Being the writer and reader of many books, Sir Walter said, "There is only one book for a dying man."

Is it not equally true for a living man? What book compares in value to aid us in better living? Do you try to find out what is your highest duty? Do you want guidance? Do you cherish peace of mind? Do you seek inspiration? Do you really want to know what life is for? This man holds The Source --- The Answer --- The Divine Way.

Day by day let us enrich our minds, let us seek from the Bible, wisdom, and try to understand God's purpose for us in His World. See you in church or Synagogue this week.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily Jan. 1, 1920, by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L., Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
— but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H.
Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

TIMELY QUOTES

I think we're going to have a major constitutional crisis if we make a habit of destroying presidents. We'll have the situation we had after the Civil War, when the presidency practically disappeared. From Andrew Johnson to McKinley.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Teeth Discoloration Probably Is Permanent

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE:
My 6-year-old daughter's two front teeth are discolored and streaked with stain. Our dentist says it's from antibiotics taken when she was a baby, and he says the stain will never come off. I just can't believe it—Mrs. P. B.

were you? I'd consult with another dentist and get his opinion.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE:
Is it possible that bad teeth can affect one's health and cause nervousness and falling hair?—Jesse E.

ANSWER: It has always been a puzzle to me that young, vigorous, perfectly healthy people can yet be occasionally decayed teeth, yet it occurs too frequently to be an odds. On the other hand, it's certainly obvious that "bad teeth" can affect one's general health.

I don't believe that teeth and gum infections can directly cause falling hair, but one's health is certainly influenced by conditions of teeth and gums and supporting structures; and nervousness is often a by-product of a breakdown of the dental apparatus.

Acute inflammations in and around the mouth can dramatically affect blood and other tissues. And chronic diseases in this area can affect all sections of the body, in some cases irrevocably.

(Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.)

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Smokey Says:

Matches—
Not for Kids!

Smokey's Friends Don't Play
With Matches!

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE:
I've been told by my dentist that I must have all my teeth taken out in order to prevent cancer. I'm only 38 years old and my teeth are in good condition. Could this dentist be wrong?—Hilde S.

ANSWER: I don't know what to say about that. I must admit that I've never heard of such a thing before.
I can't imagine why or how teeth extractions could prevent cancer.

You know what I'd do if I little hard opposition there. But its fate in the Senate remains a question. Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., has indicated reluctance to take up the measure for fear Senate critics might try to revise the entire draft system with amendments.

Some Facts About Draft Lottery Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What it would do: Set up a lottery, held in late September or early October each year to determine the draft order for the following year's 365 birthdates.
Men whose 19th birthday falls on the first dates drawn would know they faced the draft in January or February. Men whose birthdates were drawn last would likely escape the draft entirely.

The present system: All able-bodied men 19 to 26 years of age are subject to the draft on an oldest-first basis. Since most older men already have been drafted the men now being called are usually in the 20-to-21 age group.

Background: President Nixon
asked Congress Sept. 18 to repeal the 1967 ban against a draft lottery, saying his plan would be the fairest and easiest way to limit the draft to 19-year-olds.

Prognosis: Speedy scheduling of House action late next week indicates Nixon's proposal faces

Bobcats Lose To Cardinals By 29 to 0

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

And the corner remains unturned. With a supreme and errorless effort, the Fairview Cardinals smacked the Hope Bobcats 29-0 in a 4-AA Western Divisional contest last night at Tate Field in Camden.

That knocks the Cats down to 5-2 for the year and 1-1 in divisional play, while the Cardinals flew to 5-1 and 2-0 in 4-AA West. They gathered in great numbers for what was slated to be a tremendous battle against two teams practically incomparable in statistics, and the Fairview juggernaut simply couldn't be stopped while Hope struggled for each yard.

You knew it wouldn't be easy when the Bobcats had to punt with a 4th and ten at the Hope 21, and the Cards took over from the kick at their 41 and started to go.

Not until Fairview was inside the five-yard line did the Hope defense stiffen. With four minutes left in the first period, though, the Cardinals were held when fullback Jimmy Harris was stacked up at the two.

A short punt several plays later gave the home team the break they needed. Quarterback Lewis Pryor completed a couple of passes, and led Fairview to the end zone as the clock rolled down like the game would end in an hour.

Pryor dropped back with a 3rd and six at the Hope ten, then suddenly broke left and sprinted easily to paydirt. Harris kicked the PAT and Fairview led it 7-0 with 8:55 left in the half.

The Bobcat offense was throttled once more, and the resulting punt rolled dead at the Card 34. So they just drove it in the 66 yards on 13 plays, with the crucial yardage coming on Pryor's passing and running around the ends.

Harris took it over from the two this time, and kicked it to 14-0 with 3:32 left before intermission.

Now Hope came back with Thomas Lloyd on the pro sweep, the only successful play of the night against the Fairview defense, and finally got into enemy territory before running out of downs at the 37 with 51 seconds till halftime.

So Fairview used passes, two of them covering 40 yards, and a major penalty to move all the way to the Hope one with 0:04 showing. The Bobcats held, and trailed 14-0 after 24 minutes of play.

Monster man Rusty Quillin was ejected from the game in that last whirlwind Cardinal drive, when he hit back after being forearmed to the chin by Fairview guard Steve Crumpler. The official only saw Rusty's action, and the loss of the starting sophomore was felt later.

Although the Bobcats could have returned from the dressing rooms with much mental momentum, Fairview would not be stopped as they kept up the best performance of their season while the fans sat in disbelief.

On their second possession of the third segment, the Cards got a 42-yard punt return by sophomore QB Stephen Johnson to start at the Hope eight. Two plays later Jimmy Harris blasted over from the three with 7:24 showing in the third frame, and Pryor took a high snap from the holder position and ran it in easily for two points and a 22-0 spread.

To ice it up, Fairview drove 72 yards on 14 plays with 20 yards of Hope penalties for the final six-point. Fullback Jerald Jones ran it across from the two, and Harris' kick made it 29-0 with 0:10 still remaining in the third quarter.

Hope never penetrated the Cardinal 27-yard line, and Fairview never started from inside its own 25. That is field position, combining a perfect passing game with an overpowering defense, and the Cards came to play.

Jimmy Harris ran the ball 38 times for 104 yards to lead Fairview, and Pryor carried ten times for 85 more. Tailback Thomas Lloyd led the Cats, running well for 71 yards on 14 gains, as Artis Martin reinjured his ankle in the first series and was never effective at all.

In the analysis, the Cards embarrassed Hope with the 29-0 score and some lopsided statistics. Actually, though, two of those scores came on drives of 34 and eight yards after kicking game breakdowns, while two were earned on solid drives.

Pryor had the night of his career with 65 yards rushing and 10 completions out of only 13 passes for about 150 yards. The passes always came on the long third and fourth down plays, and eventually broke Hope's back along with the complete ball control.

Not this time. A five-game winning streak ends for the Bobcats, who will have to regroup forces fast for a rested and ready Magnolia Panther squad that has not played since a 25-8 loss to Arkadelphia last Friday.

Any team that gets embarrassed on the scoreboard doesn't forget the feeling, though, and you will see a Hope team fired up for Magnolia in remembrance of last night and last year's 41-0 shellacking by the Panthers.

On Monday night the "B" Cardinals return to action at Hammond Stadium against the Ashdown Panthers at 7:30 p.m., hopefully the start of a better football week for Hope fans after everyone lost this week.

Prescott Rolls Past Go-Devs

PRESCOTT, Ark. — The Prescott Curly Wolves rolled over the Gurdon Go-Devs here Friday night in a 35-0 romp. Quarterback Sandy Gautsche scored 10 points and threw for two touchdowns in Prescott's second win of the season.

Gautsche scored first on a 16 yard keeper early in the second quarter. Stuart Freeland's kick failed.

Moments later halfback Joseph Johnson ran for six yards and the second Prescott score.

Gautsche ran for the points and Prescott led 14-0 at the half.

Prescott scored twice in the third period on a 5 yard run by Tim Grimes and Gautsche's 27 yard toss to end George Dewdney. Freeland kicked the extra point on the first td and Duncan Culpepper kicked the second.

Gautsche rounded out the scoring with a 20 yard pass to end in the final period and Culpepper's kick made the score 35-0.

Figures the Unbeaten Will Remain So

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas, Los Angeles and Oakland, the only unbeaten teams in pro football, should roll along in week-end games and the San Francisco 49ers may finally get into the winner's circle for the first time.

While Tommie Agee, Jerry Kossman, Donn Clendenon, Ron Swoboda, Tom Seaver and Al Weis have been carving up the Baltimore Orioles, the pro football season has moved past the one-third mark. If the World Series lasted any longer it would be battling with the Super Bowl for the sports page headlines.

Maybe the football-baseball conflict was a helpful distinction. Anyhow it helped the old Hand picker to his best week of the season, 12-1 with 7-1 in the National Football League and 5-0 in the American Football League. Let's try again, hoping the roof doesn't cave in. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Cleveland 27, Pittsburgh 17 (Saturday night)—Leroy Kelly is back in stride and Browns have beaten the Steelers four straight since 1964. Loss of Roy Jefferson could be fatal for Pittsburgh. These two will be brothers in the AFL division next year.

Los Angeles 20, Green Bay 14—Rams just did pull it out last year, 16-14 on Bruce Gossett's field goal with 52 seconds to go. Packers showed best punch of year with 308 yards against Lions last week. This could be the game of the day.

Minnesota 30, St. Louis 17—Vikings emerging as one of the strongest teams in the league after opening upset in New York. Dave Osborne ran for 106 yards last week and Clint Jones made 61 as fill-in for Bill Brown. Vikings won Aug. 23 exhibition at Memphis, 41-13.

Cards' quarterbacks lead the league in interceptions by the opposition.

Washington 28, New York 17 — Vince Lombardi always has trouble defending Fran Tarkenton but the Giants' offense has been hurting with acute shortage of running backs. Redskins defense has been surprise and Giants are actually getting to the passer this season. Sonny Jurgensen should bring Skins home first.

San Francisco 21, Atlanta 14 — The 49ers have an 0-3-1 record after losing all their exhibitions but Falcons will be without their big man, Tommy Nobis. Although Atlanta won first meeting, Sept. 21 by 24-12 score, it's time for the 49ers to do a job.

Detroit 19, Chicago 10 — Lions tailed off last week after two big games but that Bear offense hasn't been producing. It should be a battle of two solid defensive units with the Lions' attack packing more punch as long as Gale Sayers can be kept under control.

Dallas 31, Philadelphia 14—Another rematch. Cowboys romped 38-7 in Oct. 5 game at Philadelphia when Calvin Hill ran for 206 yards while playing only one half. Eagle attack showing wallop but Cowboy defense is too strong and Craig Morton has the horses on offense.

Baltimore 24, New Orleans 17—Second game within a week for Colts, who just skinned past Eagles Monday night. John Unitas still doing the job but Colt pass rush is missing. Saints overdue but not here.

AFL
Oakland 28, Buffalo 16—Raiders, once tied but unbeaten, too tough for Bills on home grounds. Oakland won both games last year and now have won 12 regular season without a loss. Daryle Lamontica hit for three touchdowns in win over Denver. O.J. Simpson's return should help Bills.

Cincinnati 23, Denver 21—Two well-matched clubs. Home field edge for Paul Brown's Bengals who have dropped back after opening surge. Broncos have scoring punch and can be dangerous. Cincinnati won Sept. 3 exhibition game, 13-11.

Kansas City 27, Miami 17—Chiefs beginning to look like best club in AFL after impressive 24-0 shutout of Houston. Dolphins dangerous but still non-winners although they have scored only one less touchdown than opposition. You don't score on Chiefs, who have allowed only five TDs in five games.

San Diego 21, Boston 10—Chargers have won three in a row after slow start with Gary Garrison taking the play from glance Alworth. Boston still winless despite tricky defenses.

New York 24, Houston 17 (Monday night)—This game set

Stallworth Is Coming Back To a Brand New Ballclub

By LEE MUELLER
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK (NEA)—When Dave Stallworth left professional basketball two years ago with a breaking heart, the New York Knickerbockers were just a collection of near-talents, struggling with themselves and the Baltimore Bullets for last place in the NBA's Eastern Division.

Until March 5, 1967, Stallworth was known in some dressing rooms as the league's "best sixth man," no mean distinction in those days because, truthfully, nothing else was "best" about the knicks.

"We always felt we had some great material," Stallworth recalls, "but somehow we couldn't find the right combination."

Stallworth substituted for fellows like Tom Gola, Dick Van Arsdale and Barry Clemens, running and leaping and diving after basketball moves of a Baird puppet, he was enough talent and enough clown to become known affectionately as Dave the Rave.

Then one night in Fresno, Calif., Stallworth complained of chest pains. The next night in San Francisco, a doctor advised then-Knick coach Dick McGuire to watch Stallworth closely for signs of stress.

As it happened, Stallworth injured his leg early on a drive and was taken out of the game. Later they were to say how lucky he was it happened that way. Back in New York, a series of tests confirmed what only a few had suspected:

Dave Stallworth, at age 25, had suffered a heart attack. The Knicks announced that he was finished as a pro basketball player. The doctors told him to go home and forget basketball.

Somehow the heart healed. There was no surgery involved. Oral Roberts has never met Dave Stallworth. The heart just healed.

"I didn't know if I'd ever

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

Golf and putting, says Tommy Bolt in his book on the sport, are two different games. "Golf is a game of free-swinging muscle control while putting is something like eye surgery, using a bread knife for a scalpel," he says.

Actually, there are many good putters who are not particularly good golfers and about the same number of fine golfers who aren't fine putters.

I thank the Lord every day that he made me a putter. Practice and more practice can make an adequate putter, I suppose, but I've always felt putting—like musical ability—was a touch you were either born with or without.

back to Monday to let Jets get field ready after World Series excitement at Shea and the grounds crew will need every minute. Jets beat Oilers twice last year 20-14, and 26-7. Pete Beath is having trouble getting Houston into end zone. Emerson Boozar's return to old form with 129 yards against Cincinnati big boost to Jet attack.

play again," Stallworth says.

"It was really up in the air. I think I'm the only person who felt I had a chance."

Stallworth went to his mother's home in California to recuperate. He eventually drifted back to Wichita, Kan., where he had attended college. He scouted some for McGuire and then gradually, began to exercise again.

First came golf, which amounted to little more than a swing and a stroll. Then he began shooting baskets and, sometimes, even played a little. All the while, Stallworth kept coming to New York for checkups. Knicks' General Manager Eddie Donovan was willing to subsidize the remainder of his education if he went back to Wichita State and got his degree. But Stallworth wanted basketball. He took charge of an amateur basketball team and coached it to a 28-1 record. He shot more baskets. Then last spring as the new Knicks were beating Baltimore in the NBA playoffs, Stallworth got the word.

"They said it has cleared up," he said. "Imagine that!"

Stallworth returned to a different New York team this time, coached by a different man (Red Holzman) in a different place (the new Madison Square Garden Center).

The Knicks, loaded with talent, play the league's best defense and are the pre-season favorite in the NBA.

"They play more team ball now than when I was here," Stallworth observed. "They are really organized. You have to give Red (Holzman) a lot of credit, of course, but you also have to give the ballplayers credit. Spot for spot, the fellas on the Knicks two years probably played just as good on defense as this team, but this team plays team defense and that makes the difference.

"When Red came along, most of the ballplayers were individual players. He'd seen the Knicks. He knew his material. He just put it all together."

Stallworth, of course, has had some adjusting to do. "Dave missed a lot of new things we're doing now," Holzman said, "but he's catching on quick."

Baltimore coach Gene Shue, after watching Stallworth in a recent exhibition game, agreed. "Fantastic," he said. "It's like Stallworth was never away."

John Riggins: Another Gale Sayers at Kansas?

LAWRENCE, Kan.—(NEA)—Suddenly, John Riggins is being mentioned in the same breath and, in some circles, with the same awe as such standouts as Gale Sayers, Jim Brown and Floyd Little, to name just three.

Riggins is a tank-sized junior fullback for the University of Kansas who has demonstrated unusual ability in running with a ball around people and past people, but mostly into them and over them and through them.

He is 6-2 and weighs over 230 pounds and possesses a big baby face and a big bull body.

Riggins is the only returning backfield starter from last year's Jayhawk team which won nine of 11 games, were co-champions of the Big Eight and, in the Orange Bowl, dropped a 15-14 decision to Penn State.

Though the season is still in relative infancy, Riggins has not been excited about his performances. He does not think he has done as well this season as last, when he was the team's leading rusher with 866 yards, during the regular season, for an average of 6.2 per carry. Only Gale Sayers, the same Gale Sayers currently with the Chicago Bears, and Wade Stinson and Charlie Hoag ever gained more yards for Jayhawk teams in a single season.

One reason Riggins believes he has had less success this season is a matter of his weight.

"I was up near 250 pounds once this summer," he said. "Then I started going to a liquid diet and exercising more. I got down to 230. But I have trouble getting below that. I think I'd be fresher at the end of a game if I could lose a bit more."

"I was really worn out at the end of the Texas Tech game. But against Syracuse, I was fresh at the end. I should have been, because I didn't do anything. Boy, I looked terrible in the film!"

Riggins' dissatisfaction with his play is not shared by many others, particularly Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder. After Kansas beat his team 13-0, and after Riggins hit left several of his linemen wondering if they should quit football and go out for something easier, like the title team and act as targets, Schwartzwalder said.

John Riggins

"I'd put Riggins in the same class with great backs that have played for me—Jim Brown, Jim Nance, Ernie Davis, Larry Csonka and Floyd Little.

"He's the same kind, and you can be sure he'll go in the first round of the pro draft in a couple of years. You won't see any backs better than him."

BASKETBALL CHARTS

Atlanta Hawks

PROSPECTUS—Hawks are unspectacular team, but solid nevertheless—were until Zelma Beatty deflected Richie Guerin stresses defense and has a disciplined offense which scores just enough to win. Backcourt could use a strong quarterback—like Richie Guerin. Prediction: "Before Beatty"—Second in Western Division Now?

FORWARDS—Low Hudson (21.9 last season) is one of game's most underrated forwards. Quiet type, he does his job with little acclaim. Bill Bridges doesn't score much, but is aggressive rebounder. Gary Gregor, Jim Davis and rookie Wally Anderzunas (Creighton) will spell them. Rating—B.

A Bad Decision . . .

We've never cared very much for championing lost causes and we suspect that the recent action of the Congress in beginning the process for submission of a constitutional amendment that would allow the direct election of the President and Vice-President has already gone beyond the point which it might be halted. The whopping vote in favor of the plan in the House makes it rather likely that it will get through the Congress. President Nixon's endorsement of it should also enhance the likelihood of that. And, if you add the results of recent national polls on the subject, you can see that a vast majority of Americans want the change.

Be that as it may, we still have to take the position that such a change is an organic one that will eventually, change America. And we suspect that the change will be for the worse.

The point is that America is a representative democracy. The key word is "representative." The founders of our nation did not want and did not trust a "pure" democracy, so they did not found one here. "Pure" democracy is only one step away from anarchy so the founding fathers inserted another step . . . the Electoral College. For all of its faults, it has worked pretty well through the years and has served as a possible brake on a runaway majority.

Under the Electoral College system, time and the ability of the electors to change their minds, make it unlikely that we will elect bad leaders on spur of the moment emotionalism. With direct election, the feelings of the exact movement in which the voter casts his ballot will be surely felt. . . long after the voter has cooled off and changed his mind.

We don't think our opinion is likely to change the outcome in this matter but we do feel an obligation to express it. . . lost cause though it may be—Searcy Citizen

California Condors Make a Comeback

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The California condor may be coming back from the edge of extinction.

More than 270 sightings were reported Wednesday and Thursday in the annual count of the once-abundant vultures, down to an official low of 39 in 1965.

"I don't know if we'll exceed last year's confirmed count, but I sure looks like we're in the ballpark . . . We're optimistic," said Bob Mallette of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Scores of bird watchers on peaks and ridges in rugged mountains around the southern rim of the San Joaquin Valley noted each sighting by time, direction and altitude.

All sightings will be checked against others to eliminate duplication in obtaining a final figure. Last year it was 52 and the year before 47.

Wildlife officials and the Audubon Society have been campaigning for decades to check the seeming flight toward oblivion of the black birds with the 10.0 foot wingspread whose only enemy is man.

The condor once flourished from British Columbia to Lower California.

With the settling of the West, their breeding grounds shrank to a small, isolated area of Southern California set aside as a sanctuary. Farms and cities spread over their feeding grounds. Some were caught in traps set near the carcasses of cattle for coyotes and wolves.

There is a $1,000 fine for shooting one, but during hunting seasons dead birds have been found.

Condors eat only carrion, mostly the carcasses of cattle, sheep and deer.

Their reproduction is painfully slow. A female lays only one egg at a time, no often than every other year, usually in a cave in a remote cliff.

The parent birds are so wary they will abandon the egg if scared. Babies are helpless for two months and cannot fend for themselves for a year.

McCormack's Top Aid Is Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top aide of House Speaker John W. McCormack has been suspended following a charge he interceded in a stock case with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Martin Sweig, 46, who has been on McCormack's staff for 24 years, was named in an SEC suit as having arranged a meeting last May at which the SEC was asked to lift a ban on the sale of Parvin-Dohrmann Co. stock.

The suit says Parvin-Dohrmann paid $50,000 to Nathan Voloshen, a friend of McCormack's for whom it said Sweig arranged the meeting. A week later the SEC ban against sale of the stock was lifted.

McCormack, D-Mass., said in a statement that he was unaware of Sweig's alleged involvement in the SEC proceedings until earlier this week. The statement was handed out to reporters and the 76-year-old speaker was said to be out of town.

"Martin Sweig admits an error of judgment but denies any improper conduct as a member of my staff," said the statement. "He has worked for me for over 24 years. He has never given me reason to doubt his loyalty or integrity."

"I will be shocked if the trust and responsibility I have placed in him has been abused. He assures me that it has not," McCormack said Sweig has been suspended from his $36,000 a year job without pay "until all questions concerning this matter have been resolved."

The SEC suit, filed Thursday in New York, charged fraudulent activities by a group of Parvin-Dohrmann stockholders in gaining control of the company last year.

The SEC ordered a halt in the sale of the company stock last May and Voloshen was then retained to try to get the ban lifted, the suit said.

Waterworks Rate Hike Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An annual rate increase of $388,847 for General Waterworks, Inc., of Pine Bluff was approved Thursday by the state Public Service Commission.

The commission had rejected an application filed by the utility May 7, asking for an increase of $501,000. Then, the utility withdrew a "special projects" rate increase applicable to Watson Chapel.

Under the rate plan approved by the commission residents of Watson Chapel will pay the same rates as charged residents of Pine Bluff.

David to Say Goodbye to Chet Huntley

NEW YORK (AP) — After more than 13 years of saying "Good night, David," Chet Huntley is expected to leave NBC News next year, the New York Times says.

Huntley, who has paired with David Brinkley in one of television's best-known news teams, probably will leave between February and June, the Times said today.

But NBC News President Reuben Frank said a more realistic date would be after the 1970 midyear elections.

Huntley, 57, said his departure is contingent upon completion of arrangements for a $15-million resort area he plans to develop in his native Montana.

"It has to come to an end sometime. Certainly there's no panic about it," Huntley told the Times. "There's no crunch now. But I don't intend to keel over in this office."

Brinkley was quoted as saying, "I'd stay a while if they asked me."

The pair was teamed in October 1956 and the "Good night, Chet . . . Good night, David," closing song became familiar to many households.

Their program brings NBC advertising revenue estimated at $30 million a year.

Keep us, Oh God, from pettiness;
Let us be large in thought,
in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.

May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face—

Without self-pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous.

Let us take time for all things: Make us to grow calm, serene, gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences.

That in the big things of life we are at one.

And may we strive to touch and to know that great, common human heart of us all,

And Oh! Lord God, Let us forget not to be kind.

Labor Leader Slams Hike of Insurance

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, said Thursday his organization would seek a "thorough investigation of automobile insurance rate-making practices in Arkansas."

Becker made the statement following an announcement that State Farm Mutual Insurance Co. had been granted a 15.3 per cent rate increase. Becker called the increase, which was approved by state Insurance Commissioner Alan Horne, "exorbitant."

Horne approved the request last month after it had been studied by state fire and property damage actuaries.

Becker said the increase "once again raises a question of the procedure of rate-making practices in Arkansas."

meeting of Business and Professional Women, a national organization now observing its 50th birthday. Perhaps the phrase, "let us take time for all things," stands out more than any other except "let us forget not to be kind."

In the busy lives of B&PW Club members, time is not something taken lightly, but, instead, it is used in the wisest ways possible to raise standards and boost the interests of women in business and professions, bringing about cooperative spirit and opening up greater opportunities along the lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Every working woman—from the executive to one in the lowest, most unnoticed job—benefits from every stride made by the Federation of Business and Professional Women in behalf of working women in general. You see, basically, that's what this club's work is all about and where its effectiveness has been achieved.

Working for the common good, the Arkansas federation is credited with having set up guidelines for the national federation's older-worker program. And among successful legislative efforts is having a stock law passed in the state.

The entire federation is proud of its headquarters building in Washington, D. C., a cultural landmark of that city built in 1884. Among the many capable people working in the 4-story brick structure is a native of Hope, Lenora Routon Cross, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Routon. Her exceptional ability has placed her in a key executive position in the organization.

Next week, October 19-25, is National Business and Professional Women's Week. A kick-off breakfast for the members will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, March 20 at the Diamond with Margie Vickers in charge of arrangements. On Thursday, October 23 the public is invited to have coffee with the B&PW Club members at the Chamber of Commerce office from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m.

Throughout the week, a B&PW Club member will be honored each day with a drawing on KXAR to determine the recipient of numerous gifts and the designation, "Hope B&PW Woman of the Day." Also, during the week all club members will be "tagged" with badges specially designed by Velora Bright. Any of them caught without a badge will be fined 25 cents so you can be sure that green and gold B&PW badges will be in evidence everywhere.

A special treat for local B&PW members came with a dinner given for them at the Douglas Building on Thursday of this week. The hostesses were members of the Nike Club, sponsored by the B&PW and they gave a fine salute in excellent "taste" to their sponsors.

Opposition to Forced ABA Membership

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Little Rock lawyer says a motion before the state Supreme Court to require all lawyers to be members of the Arkansas Bar Association was a "strike against the freedom of all Arkansas lawyers."

Hebert R. Wilson made the statement in a brief filed with the high court.

The Executive Committee of the Arkansas Bar Association proposed "unification of the bar" and the Supreme Court has given opponents until Nov. 3 to submit their briefs.

Wilson said that 1,166 of the 2,573 lawyers in Arkansas had chosen not to be members of the Bar Association.

California Firm Bids Low

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Sacramento, Cal., firm submitted the apparent low bid of $5,988,590 Thursday for the completion of the powerhouse and switchyard at Clark Lock and Dam on the Arkansas River.

The bid was submitted by Wismer and Becker Contracting Engineers. The government estimate was more than $6.3 million. Four bids were received on the project.

DMZ Attack Kills Four Americans

SEOUL (AP) — Four American soldiers were ambushed and killed by "an unprovoked attack" of North Korean Communists today near the southern boundary of the demilitarized zone, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman said the men were returning in a 1/4-ton truck to their units after performing equipment maintenance at a guard post when they were attacked by hand grenade and small arms fire.

Patrols began an immediate sweep of the area. The bodies were recovered from the truck. Names of the dead were withheld until their relatives are notified.

Since January, one American has been killed and six wounded in a total of 60 incidents along the 18-mile-long American sector of the DMZ.

It was the first incident since July 21, breaking a relatively long lull in North Korean provocations. A group of North Koreans attacked an American guard post at that time but was repelled.

Some said the shooting incident might have been a North Korean reaction to the victory President Chung Hee Park scored in gaining approval of a referendum allowing him to run for a third term. The DMZ was reported unusually quiet during the voting Friday.

Sues Trio With Untaxed Cigarettes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A $95,500 suit has been filed in Pulaski County Circuit Court against three persons who were arrested last week with 3,820 packages of untaxed cigarettes in their possession.

State Revenue Commissioner Bob Scott filed the suit late Wednesday against Milton B. Robinson, 28, and Joyce L. Chapman, 30, both of Little Rock, and S. W. Tracy, 37, of Benton.

Act 416 of 1941, which says that the Revenue Department is entitled to $25 a package in damages for any cigarettes without the state tax stamp, is the basis for the suit.

Nixon Wants More Troops Withdrawn

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — President Nixon has ordered the Pentagon to work out plans for withdrawing up to 300,000 U.S. troops from Vietnam in 1970, Newsday said today in a copyright story by columnist Flora Lewis.

The story from Washington said that according to reliable informants the President plans to announce the accelerated withdrawal program in his Nov. 3 television address.

While many details remain to be worked out, the initial outline of the plan calls for the removal of all American combat units except two, according to the story in Newsday, a Long Island afternoon newspaper.

The columnist said the units to be left behind are the most mobile—the 1st Air Cavalry Division and the 173rd Airborne Brigade. They total between 17,000 and 18,000 men.

"The rest of an American force of between 150,000 and 200,000 men scheduled to be in Vietnam at the end of next year will be air and support troops," the story said.

Miss Lewis said the speedup of troop withdrawals was the key decision made in Nixon's meeting with the Joint Chiefs of Staff on Oct. 8.

"It goes beyond the withdrawal schedule that the President planned last August and then dropped in the face of strong opposition from the military, substituting an even more modest program which he announced in September."

"The plan reflects a shift of influence in the administration to those civilian leaders who have been arguing that domestic troubles are too near the disaster point to permit the much more gradual 'Vietnamization' that the generals wanted," Miss Lewis wrote.

Even After War Troops Will Stay

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of U. S. troops probably will remain in Vietnam to advise and train South Vietnamese forces even after the war stops, according to Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Laird's remarks to newsmen Thursday sounded like a return to the U. S. advisory effort maintained in South Vietnam under President John F. Kennedy.

This was the first time Laird has spoken publicly of administration thinking along these lines, and it is at odds with those demanding a total and swift U. S. withdrawal.

At a spot news conference, Laird refused to be specific, but said such a "residual force" of trainers and advisers would be a little bigger than the 6,000 or 7,000 men he said were in Vietnam during the Kennedy administration.

The U. S. advisory force grew to about 16,000 men by the time Kennedy was assassinated in November 1963, President Lyndon B. Johnson sent American troops to Vietnam on a major scale in 1965 and the fighting strength rose to 543,500 after the United States assumed the leading combat role.

WR Coming to Hope on Nov. 5

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller will complete his regional tours of the state with visits to Forrest City and Helena on Nov. 20 and 21. The governor is touring the state in an attempt to determine if there is support for his tax program.

Rockefeller is scheduled to be in the Harrison area Oct. 23 to meet with persons from Carroll, Boone, Baxter, Marion, Newton and Searcy counties.

The governor will get to Fort Smith Oct. 30 and will hold meetings at Texarkana and Hope Nov. 5.
